THE NEW

REMINGTON

Sewing Machine

STILL STANDS

UNRIVALLED.

All competent judges acknowledge it to be the simplest, the easiest, the quietest and the most easily handled of any shuttle machine now in market. It will sew with perfect stitch, from the finest muslin to the heaviest and firmest beaver cloth, or leather, without change of stitch, needle, thread or tension. Its percentage of increase of sales in 1874 was 90¾ per cent. and 87½ per cent. more than any other machine. In 1875 its ratio of increase was still greater, being 100 per cent. More than fifteen thousand other machines of first-class make have already been exchanged for it.

No person wishing a sewing machine can do themselves justice, whatever their prejudice, if they fail to examine the New Remington before purchasing. Five dollars a month will buy you a REMINGTON at 35 BROADWAY.

The Great Reputation

Which VEGETINE has attained in all parts of the country as a

Great and Good Medicine,

and the large number of testimonials which are constantly being received from persons who have been cured by its use, are conclusive proof of its great value. It is recommended by physicians and apothecaries, As a Blood-Purifier and Health-Restorer, it has no equal.

VEGETINE is not prepared for a fancy drink made from poor liquors, which debilitates the system and tends to destroy health instead of restoring it.

Are not the many testimonials given for the different complaints satisfactory to any reasonable persons suffering from disease that they can be cured? Read the different testimonials given, and no one can doubt. In many of these cases the persons say that their pain and suffering cannot be expressed, as in cases of Scrofula, where, apparently, the whole body was one mass of corruption. If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can be truly called the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention. When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause. The VEGETINE will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body. The conviction is, in the public mind as well as in the medical profession, that the remedies supplied by the Vegetable Kingdom are more safe, more successful, in the cure of disease, than mineral medicines. VEGETINE is composed of roots, barks and herbs. It is pleasant to take, and is perfectly safe to give an infant. Do you need it? Do not hesitate to try it. You will never regret it.

Cannot be Excelled

CHARLESTOWN, March 19, 1869.

H. R STEVENS:

DEAR SIR,—This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" in my family for several years, and I think that for Scrofula or Cankerous Humors, or Rheumatic Affections, it cannot be excelled; and, as a blood purifier and Spring medicine it is the best thing I have ever used; and I have used almost everything. I can cheerful recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. A. A. DINSMORE,
19 Russell Street.

What is Needed.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

HENRY R. STEVENS, ESQ.:—

DEAR SIR—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article, and, after using several bottles, was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared; and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health. Respectfully Yours,

W. L. FETTENGILL,
Firm of S. M. Fettengill & Co.
No. 10 State Street, Boston.

Gives Health, Strength and Appetite.

My daughter has received great benefit from the use of the VEGETINE. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite. N. H. TILDEN,
Insurance and Real Estate Agent

Gained Fifteen Pounds of Flesh.

SOUTH BERWICK, Me., Jan. 17, 1872.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:—

DEAR SIR—I have had Dyspepsia in its worst form for the last ten years, and have taken hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine without obtaining any relief. In September last I commenced taking the VEGETINE, since which time my health has steadily improved. My food digests well; and I have gained fifteen pounds of flesh. There are several others in this place taking VEGETINE and all have obtained relief. Yours truly,
THOMAS P. MOORE,
Overseer of Card Room, Portsmouth Co.'s Mills.

THE COUNTRY BOY.

"I pity the poor little country boy,
Away on his lonely farm!
The holidays bring like no elegant toy;
He has no money, there is no shop;
Even Christmas morning his work doesn't stop;
He has cows to milk—he has wood to chop,
And to carry it on his arm.

Did you hear that, Fred, as you came through the gate,
With your ruffs-pail full to the brim?
No envy fell under your curly brown pate—
You were watching a star in the morning sky,
And a star seemed shining out of your eye;
Your thoughts were glad, you couldn't tell why;
But they were not of toys, or of him.

Yet the city boy said what he kindly meant,
Walking on by his mother's side,
With his eyes on the toy-shop windows bent,
Wishing for all that his eyes could see;
Longing and looking and tossing went he,
Nor dreamed that a single pleasure could be
Afar in your woodlands wide.

You ate your breakfast that morning, Fred,
As a country boy should eat;
Then you jumped with your father upon the sled,
And were off to the hills for a load of wood;
Quiet and patient the oxen stood,
And the snowy world looked cheerful and good,
While you stamped to warm your feet.

Then your father told you to take a run;
And you started away up the hill;
You were all alone, but it was such fun!
The larch and the pine-trees seemed racing past
Instead of yourself, you went so fast;
But, rosy and out of breath, at last
You stood in the sunshine still.

And all of a sudden there came the thought,
While a brown leaf toward you whirled,
And a chickadee sang, as if they brought
Something they meant on purpose for you,
As if the trees to delight you grew,
As if the sky for your sake was blue,—
"It is such a beautiful world!"

The graceful way that the sycamore had
Of holding their soft, white head,
You saw and shrieked; and your heart was glad,
As you laid on the trunk of a beech your hand,
And beheld the wonderful mountains stand
In a chain of crystal, clear and grand,
At the end of the widening road.

Oh, Fred! without knowing, you held a gift
That a mine of gold could not buy:
Something the soul of a man to lift
From the tiresome earth, and to make him see
How beautiful common things can be,—
A glimpse of heaven in a wayside tree,—
The gift of an artist's eye!

What need had you of money, my boy,
Or the presents money can bring,
When every breath was a breath of joy?
You owned the whole world, with its hills and trees,
The sun, and the clouds, and the blowing breeze,
And your hands to work with; having these,
You were richer than any king.

When the desk drew on, by the warm hearth fire,
You needed nobody's pity;
But you paid, as the soft flames mounted higher,
And the eye and cheek of your mother grew bright,
While she smiled and talked in the lovely light—
A picture of pictures, to your sight,
"I am sorry for boys in the city!"

—Lucy Larcom, St. Nicholas for February.

AGRICULTURAL.

OLD APPLE ORCHARDS.

People who remember the splendid apple crops which our Rhode Island orchards bore a few years since and who look upon the same orchards now have often asked the cause of the difference. There may be several answers given that will in whole or part explain the difficulty, but none perhaps more nearly reaching the truth than the one which recognizes the fact that most of these old orchards have by reason of old age outlived their usefulness. A writer in the Country Gentleman says, in discussing the natural age of fruit trees:—

It seems to be the common belief that there is no limit to the natural age of apple trees. But this is certainly a mistake. We all know that the peach tree usually fails to be profitable at 12 to 15 years of age, and the cherry and plum average only 20 to 30 years; the pear, in favorable circumstances, 40 to 50 years—in rare cases a much longer time. So, also, the apple tree has its natural limit, and although, like man's life, the duration of the period of health and vigor varies greatly, according to constitution, nurture, climate, &c., its approaching termination is clearly indicated by signs of debility and disease. On very deep and favorable soils, and where the trees are not damaged by severity of climate, apple orchards are occasionally found bearing fair crops of fruit at 80 to 100 years of age, but these are nearly as rare as for their owners to live so long. Very few farms have soil of the best kind for an orchard, and everywhere our climate is either too warm, or at times too cold, for the best health of the trees. Injury by severe cold, blackening all the wood, except as new growth is formed, I am convinced is a very common cause of the premature failure of orchards; but starvation, in consequence of exhaustion of the soil, is still more common, and this is a more difficult matter to remedy than most people suppose, especially when trees have attained full bearing size.

THE HEROIC TREATMENT

another intelligent observer in speaking of the common says we think very truly the best way to handle old apple trees that are sound and healthy, but where the apples are more or less small and shriveled. Directions for renovating old apple trees are often given in agricultural papers, but to my mind none of the prescriptions are sufficiently radical to reach the seat of the difficulty. No other than "heroic treatment," in my opinion, is of much use in such cases; and my advice to G. A. S. and others, who wish to handle such old apple trees, is to grab them up and cut them into pieces of suitable length—then they can be conveniently "handled" for firewood, or, if sound, the best of them may be sold to the cutlers for making handles for knives and joiners' tools. I am not a nurseryman, but am a sexagenarian, and have had much experience in handling apple trees, old and young. I have also bestowed considerable attention on the causes of the deterioration of apple orchards in the older settled parts of Ohio and other older states, and it is my firm belief that a majority of our apple orchards have outlived the natural duration of their period of usefulness.

LARGE POULTRY YARD.

It is at Greene, Chenango county, and is kept by Mr. A. B. Robeson. He has 6,000 ducks, 4,000 turkeys, and 1,200 hens. They consume daily sixty bushels of corn, two barrels of meal, two barrels of potatoes, and a quantity of charcoal. The meal, potatoes, and charcoal are boiled together and form a pudding, which is fed warm. He has commenced to kill them off, and employs fifteen hands to pick, two to kill, and one to carry away and pack on racks until frozen, then they are ready to pack for shipping. He also employs two men to cook the feed and feed them. He has twelve buildings for his fowls, from one to two hundred feet long, fourteen feet wide, and seven feet under the eaves, with a door in each end of them.

Mr. Robeson bought most of his ducks in the West, and had them shipped in crates—three dozen in a crate. He also has an egg-house, 35 by 50 feet, and four stories high. The outside is eighteen inches thick, and built of cut stone laid in mortar, boarded up on the inside and filled in between the outside and inside wall with sawdust, it taking 3,000 bushels. Mr. Robeson claims that he can keep eggs any length of time in this building. He also keeps the poultry that he is now dressing until next May or June, which he sells for eighteen to twenty five cents per pound, and it cannot be told from fresh-dressed poultry. He gets ten cents per pound for turkeys' feathers twelve for hens', and sixty five for ducks'. He says there is money in poultry, and he thinks he can make out of his 6,000 ducks enough to pay for his egg house, which cost $7,000. He intends to keep a great many more next season, and has agents out all over the country buying up poultry and eggs.

THE PRICE OF GAS IN PHILADELPHIA.—The Philadelphia Press of Wednesday says:

The public, which means some 900,000 persons in Philadelphia, will receive with great satisfaction the announcement of a reduction in the price of gas. For some time past it has stood at $2 30 per 1000 cubic feet, with an addition of 5 per cent. on all bills that are not paid within five days after delivery. On Saturday the board of trustees of the Philadelphia Gas Works reduced the price to $2 15 per 1000 cubic feet, to take effect on and after the 1st day of March. This intimation is very acceptable. Considering that bituminous coal from which gas is made abounds in Western Pennsylvania and also in West Virginia, and can be brought into Philadelphia at a comparatively low price, it is to be regretted that the reduction by the gas works' trustees is only 15 cents per 1000 cubic feet. Still, let us be grateful for small mercies.

Gordon Byron Bingham of Patoka, Ind., is dead. While in the flesh he was a distiller and just before his death he was convicted of systematic and long continued defrauding of the government, but at his funeral the Rev. Dr. Metcalf, of what church we are glad to be ignorant, is said to have "delivered a very feeling address on the life of the deceased." We hope the state will never tax the church of so useful a teacher of morality as the Rev. Dr. Metcalf.

The bill to pay interest on the 3.65 district bonds was discussed during the greater part of yesterday's session of the United States Senate, without, however, reaching a vote. The House passed, with but trifling amendment, the military academy appropriation bill as reported by the committee. Mr. Morrison, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported a tariff bill. Under the call of states for bills, for reference, about two hundred were introduced upon a variety of subjects.

They have a very gentlemanly judge in Philadelphia. George Maguire and Edward Hughes were tried before Judge Briggs for taking coal from school houses, the aforesaid coal not belonging to them. In imposing sentence the judge said they had been convicted of stealing coal, "or of the larceny of coal, rather," said his honor, hastily correcting himself, "I will not use an offensive word." Most considerate judge! A modern Daniel, verily! Quite unlike all the ancient Daniels. By no means should a thief's feelings be hurt by being called a thief. And so L. W. Pond writes from Charlestown state prison about his "irregularities," and the French talk about chevaliers of industry, and men do not lie but prevaricate, and a gentlemanly sot is only convivial or a high liver. Euphemism is as effectual an opiate for conscience as Mephistopheles—there it is again, we mean Satan—ever invented.

REFORM LEAVEN WORKING IN BOSTON.

A free trade club has been organized in Boston, which the Transcript likens to carrying the war into Africa. Prof. Perry of Williams College, Prof. Sumner of Yale College, David A. Wells, of Connecticut, William C. Bryant of New York, Carl Schurz of St. Louis and Reverdy Johnson of Baltimore are some of the gentlemen who have accepted membership on the advisory committee of this club. The Transcript says "The break [from protectionism] really occurred some time ago in New England, among leading manufacturers who found that the protective tariff, by increasing the cost of their raw materials, their dyes, etc., more than counterbalanced the protection of their completed fabrics, and this specific fact brought home to them, led the way to the generalization that manufactures, perhaps, after all, would stand as good a chance as now, if everything entering into their materials were untaxed, while certainly the people would gain the benefit of the best prices to be obtained in the markets of the world."

The Transcript says, "The Boston free trade club can hardly fail to make rapid progress in this thinking and enlightened community." And this suggests the real difficulty of propagating free tradism. It requires some thinking and some enlightenment to understand the merits of free trade. Any fool can see that to shut out foreign carpets secures the home field for domestic carpets, but it takes not only a man of some intelligence, but a man who is willing to exercise that intelligence to see that the wool raiser is entitled to as much protection as the carpet maker, and that when the latter pays prices increased by the tariff for his wool, his dyes, his machinery, and for his labor the protection he received against European manufacturers has been pretty thoroughly neutralized.

The advantage that protection has over free trade is that its benefits are massed in a few places like Fall River, and Thompsonville, and Pittsburg, where a man with half an eye can not fail to see it, while its injuries are scattered over the whole country, and divided among forty millions of people so that a man must look carefully for them. With free trade the case is precisely the reverse. Its adoption might result in the closing of this mill and that furnace, which evils the wayfaring man though a fool must see, but it would also result in the reduction of the cost of living everywhere, and it would allow capital to be saved, or spent in developing the country, which is now literally thrown away in buying things at high instead of low prices. Protection is a thunder shower that makes a lake right in front of a man where he must take notice of it, but does about as much harm as good, while free trade is a gentle rain benefiting the entire country, blessing everybody, and yet quite overlooked by many people.

The Boston club has issued the following articles of faith:—

We believe that the highest right of property is the right to freely exchange it for other property; and that any system of law which denies or restricts this right for the purpose of subserving private or class interests reaffirms the principle of slavery.

We believe that a man who confesses that he can't get an honest living by his own exertions, and therefore calls upon the community to tax themselves to support him, is a pauper in every sense of the word; and that the time has come to stop talking about pauper labor abroad, and see if we cannot get along without pauper labor at home.

We believe that the system of protection, as now taught and carried out in the United States, is second only in villainy to the system of American slavery as it existed prior to the rebellion.

And so believing, we pledge ourselves as a club, in the interest of abundance, human comfort and happiness, and in opposition to restriction, scarcity, poverty and discomfort, to do all in our power to advance the recognition and national adoption of the principles of free trade.

STATE MISCELLANY.

The new Brown University library will have a capacity for 125,000 volumes.

The Woonsocket manufacturers are considering the question of a reduction of wages this month.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Kinnicutt of Barrington, was celebrated on Tuesday evening.

The Rev. E. A. Woods, of Saratoga, N. Y., has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Stewart street Baptist church in Providence and will enter upon his new relations immediately.

Gen. Warren has made a report on Little Narragansett bay, and recommends improvements which will cost $50,000. This will preserve Stonington harbor and benefit the navigation of the Pawcatuck river.

Frederick A. Dockray, formerly of Providence, who was arrested in Cuba some months since, on the charge of aiding the Cuban insurgents, and sentenced to be shot, but who was afterwards transferred to Spain as a state prisoner and effected his escape from prison there not long ago, has been heard from at London and will soon be home again.

At last we have the conclusion of the strike at Lonsdale, the operatives having voted to go in on Monday, all the mule spinners being already at work and 1400 looms running, a gain of 780 over Thursday. The working people accept the reduction of wages, and the advice of the more considerate and intelligent among themselves. It is undoubtedly true that the wages are low; it is just as true that they are as high as the business will warrant. For the present, at any rate, the operatives will gain more than will the mill-owners by the full starting up of the mills. This is a state of affairs which everybody regrets, but it is one for which no one person or firm is responsible. The struggle to gain the accustomed income of the last few years is one in which the operatives are by no means alone engaged. The shrinkage of trade, of the value of property, of incomes, is general. All classes are feeling this truth; and they are the wisest who, finding any honest employment which affords a decent living, earnestly engage and continue therein. It is only just to the people who struck at Lonsdale, to say, that amidst all the exciting discussions, and the inevitable misstatements and misapprehensions, they have as a body maintained the peace, and permitted full and free argument. Messrs. Lewis, Moony, and others who have given such excellent advice in the face of a popular opposition, have now the satisfaction of finding their judgment correct, as their sympathies were, all the time, only limited by reason, with their fellow operatives.—[Providence Journal.

A LEAP YEAR TRAGEDY.—They stood together in the entry beneath the hall lamp, says the Chicago Tribune. "Then Henry," she said in a low voice, wherein were blended determination, melancholy and love, "you refuse my suit?" "Yes, Ella," he replied in accents that were firm though the speaker's voice trembled. "I admire you. I will be a brother to you, and watch with pride your course through life, and if ever trouble should befall you, there will at least be one friend to whom you can come for succor; but I can never, never, be your husband." "It is not because I am poor, Henry. For, oh, if that were all, I could toil gladly from morn till night for you, and strive and win a home for you, humble it might be, but our own." "It is useless to attempt to induce me to change my determination. Though I am but a poor, weak man, I can never, never, change my mind." "Then, cruel young man, so fair and yet so false, farewell. Tomorrow you will see my mangled remains on the lecture platform, and know that it has been your work. But it will be too late," and, clasping him to her bosom in a wild embrace, she fled into the outer darkness.

A MALCOM WEDDING.—We clip the following item from the Philadelphia Bulletin of Thursday, Jan. 27th:

Yesterday afternoon the Beth-Eden church at Broad and Spruce streets, was filled with the numerous witnesses of a marriage which was invested with circumstances of peculiar interest. Our distinguished fellow citizen, the Rev. Howard Malcom, D. D., LL. D., who recently entered upon his seventy eighth year, united his granddaughter, Mary Carnahan Malcom, in marriage to Dr. G. M. Dallas Peltz, with prayer by the Rev. Thomas Shields Malcom, A. M., the father of the bride; a brief address to the newly married couple by the Rev. Charles Howard Malcom, D. D., of Newport, R. I., and an appropriate benediction by the Rev. J. Wheaton Smith, D. D. The Hon. Francis Wayland, of Conn., and other distinguished persons were present. It was an unusual scene to witness three ministers in the same family uniting in the pleasant exercises of a wedding. The bright sunshine and the excellent music added special interest to the marriage services. There was an additional coincidence in this wedding in the fact that directly opposite the north end of Beth-Eden church stood, until within the last few weeks, the old brick house which was the country residence of the bride's great-great-grandfather, Thomas Shields, about a century ago, when his business as one of the principal gold and silversmiths was on Dock street, near Front.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The city council meets tonight.

—Clerk Sanford is no better today.

—Senator John Turner, of Bristol, is in town.

—The Atlantic House is one of the busiest places in town.

—The leaking schooner J. P. Robinson has resumed her voyage.

—An effort is being made to get the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher here to lecture.

—The choir of Emmanuel church will give a concert at the church a week from tonight.

—The St. Denis billiard rooms are to be reopened Thursday by Messrs. William Rushton and John Burkinshaw.

—A public meeting of the People's Temperance Union will be held at the Sons of Temperance hall, Spring street, this evening.

—Our florists have received several large orders for cut flowers, smilax, etc., for the grand charity ball to be given in New York this evening.

—The court room and entry as well as the steps at the court house were crowded during the session of the court of justices this morning.

—John L. Thurston, a carpenter, working on the Atlantic House, was quite seriously hurt this morning by falling from the top of the piazza. He was taken to his home and Dr. Mott was summoned. He is probably injured internally.

—H. Augustus Peckham, son of Felix Peckham, died at his residence on Broadway quite suddenly last evening. Mr. Peckham had been an invalid for many years and had a well earned reputation as an artist, his crayon work being much sought after.

—Dr. Coit having decided that he could not accept the call to Trinity church on account of the claims of St. Paul's school on him, the vestry of Trinity church will have to try again, but according to their charter they cannot meet earlier than a week from next Thursday.

JUSTICE COURT.

TUESDAY, FEB. 1.

The case of Timothy Sullivan charged with attempting an outrage on the person of Mrs. Isabella Carson was brought up in the justice court this morning. Mr. Peckham appearing for the prosecution and John Turner of Bristol for the defence. Officer Denman testified that he found Sullivan in the act of committing an outrage. Mrs. Carson was lying on the ground apparently lifeless. Sullivan had been drinking, but was not drunk. When the officers went to summon Mrs. Carson as a witness she said she was glad they had come: that Sullivan jumped out at her from King street and grabbed her by the throat.

Officer Dawley testified that he was on Bellevue avenue near the Ocean House about half past ten or eleven o'clock and heard cries of distress so far off that he couldn't tell where they came from. He walked to Bowery street and told his partner he thought the cries came from King's lot. They went down Bowery street and found the cries came from King street. They found Sullivan in the criminal act and one on each side of him lifted him onto his feet. Sullivan said something about wishing to arrange his clothes. Denman took Sullivan to the station house and witness found that the woman's person was exposed and her clothing was wrapped around her head. He helped her up and she had to lean up against the fence.

Passing a gaslight on Bowery street he pressed a citizen to help him take the woman to the station house. On cross examination witness said he didn't tell the woman till they got to the station house what the matter was. The woman leaned against the fence because she was exhausted; admitted that she was also drunk.

Isabella Carson testified that she met Sullivan near King street coming out of Bowery street. Had never seen him before. Had spent the afternoon and evening at Mrs. Lee's. Saw no one there but Lee and his wife and saw no one after leaving there till she saw Sullivan. She seemed unable to tell anything about the affair and finally admitted that she was intoxicated.

Mr. Turner declined to cross examine her. He didn't believe any grand jury would indict his client on the evidence put in, and severely denounced the conduct of a certain newspaper reporter, for anticipating trial, and prejudicing the minds of people against Sullivan.

Timothy Sullivan, the defendant, testified that he started from his shop on Thames street and went as far as Pope street in the direction of his home. Then he turned back and went to Lee's and had a glass of soda. Saw Mrs. Carson there and saw she was drunk. For this reason Mrs. Lee wanted him to go home with Mrs. Carson, and said she would go part way with them. She went as far as the head of Young street and then returned. Mrs. Carson was drunk and fell down three times between Lee's and Bowery street. Near King street she commenced to shout and then staggered into King street and continued shouting. Two minutes afterward the police arrived. Witness made no assault. He was not found with his clothes disarranged, and made no request of the police officer as testified.

At the station house he heard the woman tell Capt. Hammond in the presence of Alderman DeBlois and John Malgin that the charge was an infamous lie, and that no person had made an assault upon her. He was not told of the charge against him till the next morning. Had been drinking a little.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee corroborated all Sullivan said about his visit to their place and their request to him to go home with her, except that Mrs. Lee said Sullivan offered to go home the last part of the way with Mrs. Carson without Mrs. Lee. Mr. Lee gave the defendant an excellent reputation.

James Thurston and Albert Wilcox testified to meeting Sullivan and the woman that night. The latter was intoxicated and the former was trying to get her home.

Mr. Turner made an eloquent plea for Sullivan, and claimed a discharge for him. Mr. Peckham didn't think the woman's drunkenness had anything to do with the charge.

Sullivan was found probably guilty, and was bound over in the sum of $2000 for trial before the March term of the supreme court. Isaac Clark became his surety.

PROTECTION FOR SAVINGS BANK DEPOSITORS.

The bill introduced Friday in the New York state senate by Senator Bayden in relation to savings banks amends sections 15 and 57 of the law of 1875 as follows:

"And each and every one of the trustees of such savings banks or institutions for savings must be responsible, and shall become, with their real and personal property, securities for the faithful administration and execution of the duties of the president, vice-president, and all the officers of such savings bank or institution for savings whereof they are elected and hold the positions as trustees and officers.

"Any president, vice-president, trustee or other officers of such savings bank or institution for savings who shall wilfully or fraudulently use or misappropriate any of the funds, or money, or securities, or is guilty of the use of funds or deposits of such savings bank for illegitimate purposes, or of malfeasance or wilful neglect of the duty in his office, upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one thousand dollars, or imprisonment in a state prison not less than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court."

CANDLEMAS DAY.

The 2d of February, sometimes known by the name of "Christ's Presentation," was as the "Holyday of St. Simeon," and as the "Purification," has long been known as a feast day in the church calendar by its appellation of "Candlemas Day," which, avoiding to a quaint old chronicle, came in this way: "When the Romaines, by great Myght and royal power, conquered all the world, they were so proude that they forgat God, and made them divers Gods. * * * And so, among all, they had a God that they called Mars, that had been afore a notable Knight in Battayle. And so they prayed to hym for Help, and for that they would deserve the better of this Knyght, the People prayed and did great Worship to his Mother, that was called Februa, after which Woman much People have Opinion that the Moneth February is called. Wherefore the second Day of this Moneth is Candlemas Day, for on this night the Romaines went about the city with torches and candles brenning in worship of this Woman Februa. Then was there a Pope that was called Sergius, and when he saw Christian people draw to this false Mawmetry and untrue Belief, he thought to undo this foule Use and Custom, and gave commandment that all Christian People should come to Church and offer up a Candle brenning in the Worship that they did to this Woman Februa, and do Worship to our Lady and to her Sonne our Lord Jesus Christ. So that now (the old chronicle adds) this Feast is solemnly hallowed thorowe all Christendome." The ceremony of blessing the candles takes place at Rome in the beautiful chapel of the Quirinal, where the pope himself officiates, blesses and distributes with his own hands a candle to every person in the body of the church. Each one goes individually and kneels at the throne to receive it, and the candles thus blessed are carefully taken home, and are supposed to have a marvellous power in driving away all evil spirits from the habitation where they are lighted!

In Scotland the old country folk have a curious superstition that—

"If Candlemas be fair and clear,
There'll be twa winters in the year."

So, if the day passes without a shower of rain or a fall of snow, their spirits droop; a late cold Spring and heavy snow storms before the following Christmas will be, they they say, the inevitable result! Of course the rule works "both ways," and the old Scotch farmer will rub his hands with glee when he hears upon Candlemas day the dismal battling of the elements without; for are not a fine Summer and genial suns in Autumn ensured thereby?

In Ray's collection of proverbs we find—

"On Candlemas Day,
Throw candle and candlestick away."

This doubtless refers to the custom of giving up on this day the use of lighted tapers at vespers and litanies; for with the lengthening days the need of artificial lights at service ceased until the next All Hallows Eve. Indeed, one authority declares that the name Candlemas was given to the second day of February simply because of this (very common-sense) custom.—[Boston Transcript.

ANOTHER DEMOCRATIC BLUNDER.—A communication in another column relates a pitiful story, which will, we suspect, create a good deal of indignation through the country, and not unjustly. It seems that in the postoffice attached to the House of Representatives there were employed a number of Union soldiers, all but one, as is shown in the list, disabled, which means, we suppose, unfitted for the active duties of life. It was not only a bayonet, but an eminently proper, act to give these poor fellows the petty places they held, and they ought never to have been allowed to fear removal from them. Such support for their declining years they have a right to claim. But it seems the Democratic majority of the House has made haste to remove them all, and to fill their places with men who, according to the kind of oath they were obliged to take, served against the Union. We warn the Democrats that they will excite just indignation and resentment by such a course. The Herald, as is very well known to all its readers, has, in every way and constantly discouraged sectional bitterness or any revival of the war feeling. What the country wants is harmony and good feeling. But it is impossible to get these unless both parties show good sense, and the Democrats ought certainly to pay respect to the claims of the poor fellows who were disabled in the service of the Union. We should be glad to see the leading Democrats in the House take immediate measures to restore every disabled soldier in the list which has been sent us to the place from which he has been expelled. They cannot succeed on any narrow policy, and they will be held responsible in this matter. —[New York Herald.

Such a life as Mr. Winslow's, it seems to us, illustrates the tendencies of the times. We see in it the demoralizing influences of the great war, the rage of speculation, the hasle to get rich by short cuts, the unsettling effect of a false medium of exchange, and the canker of corruption which has crept in with such extravagance and bad politics.—[Boston Herald.

It is not true that we will pay $20,000 a year as a subvention to the Barbary States, says the Advertiser, but the error arose from the fact that an appropriation is made every year to be expended by the President pursuant to the act of 1810, entitled "An act fixing the compensation of ministers and consuls residing on the coast of Barbary, and for other purposes."

Candidates for the New Bedford postmastership multiply. Petitions have been in circulation several days among the citizens of New Bedford in favor of Nathaniel Gilbert, George B. I am a Republican, of just as many years standing as I have seen years of discretion. I have no tendency to any other party—no association, no sympathy with any other party. Far be it from us to hold religion or temperance responsible for the offences of a man like Winslow or any other bad man. The sufferers by the great floods in France last Summer appear to have undergone quite a flood of generosity at the hands of their countrymen. Mme. MacMahon has just submitted a statement to the central committee of the fund to aid the sufferers by the floods, which shows how the money subscribed has been distributed. The total sum amounts to $7,100,000, one half of which has gone towards the reconstruction of houses destroyed; $900,000 to make up losses by the washing away of harvest produce; $500,000 for loss of furniture, and the like sum for damage to land, and $100,000 to assist employers of laborers who would, without such aid, be compelled to cease work and discharge their workmen. The rest has been given to the poor for clothes and necessaries of life and to the hospitals.

Needless Suffering.

Many persons of weakly constitution with dyspeptic and bilious tendencies, suffer lifelong bodily distress unnecessarily. Their existences are commonly shorter than those of healthier mortals, but while they last, it is usually the case that they are continually dosing themselves, or being dosed to no purpose. Could they be induced to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for a while, strength regained, digestion restored, and the disappearance of bilious symptoms would speedily acquaint them with the difference between a remedy which deals with causes, and those which affect symptoms merely. Not only are the Bitters a searching specific for complaints affecting the stomach, liver or intestinal canal, but they are, in consequence of their invigorative and bracing influence upon the entire physique, an admirable means of protecting the system against the atmospheric influences which beget material disease. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEA WEED TONIC, AND MANDRAKE PILLS.—These deservedly celebrated and popular medicines have effected a revolution in the healing art, and proved the fallacy of several maxims which have for many years obstructed the progress of medical science. The false supposition that "consumption is incurable" deterred physicians from attempting to find remedies for that disease, and patients afflicted with it reconciled themselves to death without making an effort to escape from a doom which they supposed to be unavoidable. It has now proved, however, that Consumption can be cured, and that it has been cured in a very great number of cases (some of them apparently desperate ones) by Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, one or both, according to the requirements of the case.

Dr. Schenck himself, who enjoyed uninterrupted good health for more than forty years, was supposed, at one time to be at the very gate of death, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless, and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and, since his recovery, many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his principal office, Corner Sixth and Arch Sts., Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. Schenck's medicines are sold by all druggists. jan6-lm-do

Tingley Automatic Heat Governor.

Price Reduced Until the First of July Next.

Price attached to furnace $10. Boiler pay for a Governor that will surely prevent the escape of poisonous gases from your furnace, than save your money, and breathe a tainted atmosphere, suffer from the inconvenience of coal dust, unevenly heated rooms, and danger from fire. You need a Governor more in the Spring months when you use the dangerous smoke pipe damper to check the fire.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1876.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Important Regulations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.

Representative Morrison, of Illinois, today introduced an act to simplify the appraisement of goods, wares and merchandise imported into the United States and subject to ad valorem duties. The bill defines the basis on which the dealers are to be assessed on imported merchandise subject to ad valorem duties to be the fair market value, or actual wholesale price of such merchandise in the principal places of the country from whence exported at the time of exportation, and repeals the law of 1866, which compels the importer to separately add to the cost of the goods the cost of boxing and casing, although the same have been before included in the cost of the merchandise, as well as all little petty charges for brokerage, cartage, dock fees, etc. An omission of any one of these items by neglect of an employe is now held to violate the invoice, and subject the importer to heavy penalties, and their retention on the statute books as elements for estimating the value of invoices obviously constitutes the basis for the operation of the large class of informers whose very existence is a disgrace to any government.

FROM NEW YORK.

A Brooklyn Clergyman Accused of Sowing Discord in the Church.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.

Rev. Fred Bell, the reformed pugilist and pastor of the Park avenue Primitive M. E. church in Brooklyn, is accused of sowing discord in the church and making improper proposals to the wife of one of the brothers of the church, but he emphatically denies it. The church officials held a meeting in the church this evening, when the charges were presented in due form. They recite that the pastor is charged by William J. Morris with visiting his house, No. 110 Vanderbilt avenue, Brooklyn, on the 21st and 29th of April, 1875, and making improper proposals and using indecent language to his wife Mary L. Morris, language unbecoming the pastor of any Christian church. The pastor is also charged by two other brothers with making divisions in the church, and also with giving false statements to a reporter of a Brooklyn paper. After a brief discussion it was decided to suspend the pastor for ten days and to try him on Friday next. The reverend gentleman was present and denied the charges. He said he would preach in the Academy of Music on Sunday next, but not under the auspices of the Primitive Methodist Episcopal church.

The Evangelical Alliance

of the United States held its annual meeting here this evening, Hon. William E. Dodge presiding. The annual report showed that the various branches of the alliance throughout the country were in a flourishing condition. The Rev. T. C. Trowbridge spoke in relation to missionary work in Turkey, and said that recent correspondence with the missionaries stationed there indicated that there would soon be changes of government there. Resolutions were adopted recommending to the Philadelphia alliance the consideration of the expediency and practicability of a special application of religious services during the international exhibition in that city, illustrating the unity and power of our evangelical Christianity and the relation of the religion taught to the progress, perpetuity and true glory of the American republic and the world's civilization and salvation. Officers were then elected for the current year.

Supposed Murder and Arson.

The house of David H. Skidmore at Deer Park, L. I., was burned on Saturday night. Among the ruins today were found the charred bodies of Mr. Skidmore, Fleet Weeks, an old man who had lived with Mr. Skidmore many years, Mrs. Titus the housekeeper, and her husband. Mr. Skidmore was well known and was almost constantly in litigation with his neighbors and had, it is alleged, a great many enemies. The supposition is that he was murdered and the premises fired, the other occupants of the house being unable to escape. The house is at a considerable distance from any other buildings. Skidmore had accumulated a considerable fortune by charcoal burning, and was about 60 years old. Weeks was about the same age. Mr. and Mrs. Titus were young, and had been living with Skidmore only a short time.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE WHISKEY FRAUDS.

McKee Convicted.—The Maguire Cases.—Arrangements in New Orleans.—The Indianapolis Cases.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 31.

The jurors in the case of William McKee received instructions from Judge Dillon, Judge Treat coinciding, at 10.30 this morning, and retired at 11.30. The charge was very long. According to previous announcement, the court reconvened at 10 P. M. Judge Treat on the bench, to receive what the jury might have to present. A quarter of an hour later the jury came in with the following verdict: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty." Council for the defence asked that the jury be polled, which was done, and all the jurors responded affirmatively. Judge Treat then stated in relation to the bonds that he would prefer that the matter should be decided by Judge Dillon. It was then agreed that the defendant should be called tomorrow morning on the opening of the court, and the amount of bonds be determined by the full bench. Defendant left the court-room with his counsel and numerous sympathizing friends. The verdict was unexpected, almost everybody anticipating a disagreement or acquittal.

Ex-Collector Maguire's trial began today. General Babcock and his witnesses are notified to present themselves for next Monday, unless otherwise informed.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 31.

Alfred S. Cowand, John Alexander, John G. Ryan, William Flash, of the firm of Flash, Lewis & Co., and J. A. Lewis, L. A. Saxon, Fred. R. Matthews and James A. Gardner, of the same firm, were arraigned on a charge of failing to produce their books on demand of the internal revenue officer. John Henderson was also arraigned upon the same charge. All of the above named were bailed in $5000 each. Henderson claims that his books were stolen and destroyed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 31.

The motions for new trials in the case of James K. Hill and Alfred M. McGroff, convicted of whiskey irregularities during the present term of the United States court, were finally disposed of this morning by Judge Gresham, who refused a hearing and will enter judgment upon the verdict of the jury tomorrow.

AFFAIRS OF EASTON & MILNE.

FALL RIVER, Feb. 1.

The committee of investigation into the affairs of Easton & Milne of Fall River made the following report to the creditors yesterday. Your committee of fifteen beg leave to report that at their first meeting they recommended to Easton & Milne to go into voluntary bankruptcy, which they have done: and your committee further recommend that the estate be taken from bankruptcy and placed in the hands of trustees for settlement, and respectfully submit the names of the following gentlemen for your consideration to act as trustees: Charles J. Holmes, Isaac C. Chase, Robert Henry. This report was accepted. It was then voted that this committee of fifteen act as an advisory committee to the trustees. Another meeting of the creditors will be held at nine o'clock on Wednesday morning, before H. M. Knowlton, register of bankruptcy, to prove their claims.

RAILROAD TRAINS SNOW-BOUND.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Jan. 31.

A despatch from Wells, Nevada, says the west-bound train, due in San Francisco Tuesday evening, attempted to force the blockade today with twelve engines and a snow plough, but stuck in the first cut west of Toano. The train was hauled back to Toano and will stay there until the weather moderates. The wind is blowing a gale. The snow is drifting badly on Peoquop range, where the railroad crosses. The tea that arrived by the last Pacific steamer is lying here waiting favorable weather. A Green river, Wyoming, despatch says the passenger train and pay car that left there going west this morning both stuck in the snow near Bridger station. The passenger train bound East was abandoned for today.

FIRE OIL.

BATH, Me., Jan. 31.

By the report of the Secretary of the Maine Oil and Guano Association for 1875, it appears that there are invested in eighteen factories, with fish gear, $900,000, employing 1231 men, 36 steamers and 27 vessels. There have been 712,000 barrels of fish taken at the works, an increase of 90,000 barrels over 1874, and 1,800,000 gallons of oil made, an increase of 21,000 gallons and 22,000 tons of guano made. There was an addition of fourteen steamers to the fleet last year, and nearly 12,000 barrels of fish were sold for bait.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 31.

Judge Fox, of the United States district court, today decided in the case of John N. Nicat, mate, and Joseph Stanton, steward, against the brig Wesonah, giving them three months' extra wages, besides arrears. The vessel was condemned in Nassau, and the Judge gives the extra wages on the ground that the vessel was sent to sea in an unseaworthy condition. This is the first decision under the new shipping act with this issue directly made, and is an important decision.

RAILWAY INTERESTS.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 31.

The annual meeting of the Providence, Warren and Bristol Railroad was held this afternoon. Appropriate resolutions relative to the death of President John H. Clifford were adopted. The gross earnings of the road during the past year were $108,000; operating expenses, $70,141. The following named were elected a board of directors; Samuel W. Church, Ambrose E. Burnside, of Bristol; William R. Robeson, Henry A. Whitney, Francis M. Weld, of Boston; William Goddard, Thomas P. I. Goddard, of Providence. Subsequently the directors elected Henry A. Whitney, President, and B. B. Torrey, of Boston, treasurer.

HORSE THIEVES HANGED.

ATCHISON, Ks., Jan. 31.

A commercial traveller of this city, just in from Solomon valley, says six horse thieves were hanged there a few days ago by a vigilance committee. Among those lynched were Hutchinson, Cox and Connaughty, three desperadoes of the frontier. The thieves were surrounded in their cabin at night, just after returning from a trip to Nebraska, where they had been to dispose of stock. They were tried by the lynchers' court and found guilty and executed at once.

STABBING AFFRAY IN PRISON.

AUBURN, N. Y., Jan. 31.

A murderous affray occurred at the prison here this morning between two convicts in the slate shop. John McAlpin, a Sing Sing transfer, without provocation, stabbed Frank H. Meredith four times with a shoe knife. It is thought that none of the wounds will prove fatal. McAlpin was the chief conspirator in the famous attempt to escape on a sloop from Sing Sing, at which time he was shot and recaptured. He is considered the most dangerous felon in the country.

THE WESTERN FRESHET.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 31.

The river at this point is falling rapidly. Advices from points in southern Indiana are to the effect that the streams are subsiding and no further overflow is apprehended. The Hocking River was out of its banks for two days near Athens, Ohio. A slide on the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad near that place caused an entire suspension of travel. The Ohio river submerged a large warehouse at Florence, Ky., containing 1700 bales of hay.

CONFESSION OF A BANK ROBBER.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 31.

A confidence man named J. L. Terner, of Terry, Ill., has confessed being one of a gang of thieves who robbed a bank at Quincy, Ill., in February, 1874, of $350,000 in bonds and $84,000 in cash; says he was given the bonds and the others took the cash. He says the bonds are buried near Chambers Junction, Iowa, and the chief of police has just returned from a search, which was unsuccessful. Forty thousand dollars' reward was offered for the recovery of the bonds by the bank, and it is probable that Terner will be taken to Iowa to make good his confession.

The undersigned would inform his former friends and patrons, and a discerning public, that he will continue the grocery business in the south store of building known as where as varied a stock as usual will be combined, and every effort in person be made to cater to the wants of resident and season families. Purchases will be made and goods sold on a strictly cash basis. He therefore confidently expects, by strict attention to business to secure a fair share of patronage as he will make it an object for the public to do so. Goods delivered free.

FIRE ALARM REGULATIONS.

To send out an alarm.

Any person who discovers a fire is requested to immediately give the alarm by crying fire, and, going to the box nearest the fire, to send out a general alarm by procuring the key, unlocking the box, and firmly pulling the hook down, once only, then closing the door, being careful to see that it is locked, and returning the key.

The person sending out an alarm from a box is requested to remain near said box until the first engine arrives, to direct the firemen to the exact locality of the fire.

Cautions.

Never pull a box if the small gong inside is striking or the machinery of the box is heard running.

Do not pull a box for a fire seen at a distance, or unless you are aware of the locality of a fire.

Key holders are requested not to allow their keys to be taken except by responsible parties.

Bell Ringers.

Bell ringers are engaged to ring the following church bells in connection with the telegraph alarm :—

The First and North Baptist, United Congregational and Emmanuel with instructions to ring their respective bells for five minutes immediately after the telegraphic alarm has completed its four rounds and then to repeat eight times the number of the box from which the alarm is sent.

Recall.

Nine blows upon the telegraphic alarm bells will indicate that the fire is out and that the services of the department are not required.

Testing the Apparatus.

One stroke on the bells by the telegraphic alarm will simply indicate that the apparatus is in good order.

LOCATION OF BOXES AND KEYS.

Box No. 2.—On Lysander Stevens's house, Thames street, opposite Bridge street.

Keys at Lysander Stevens's and Daniel C. Bentham's.

Box No. 3.—Mrs. Sylvanus Wilbour's house, corner of Touro and Spring streets.

Keys at Harwood R. Read's and C. T. Dubois's.

Box No. 4.—Downing's Block on Downing street near Bellevue avenue.

Keys at George T. Downing's, Bellevue avenue, Mrs. Hayward's Downing street and William A. Williams's, Downing Block.

Box No. 5.—On J. T. Burdick & Co's store, corner of Thames street and Brown & Howard's wharf.

Keys at J. T. Burdick & Co's store, C. H. Burdick's, Thames street and Thomas Chambers's, corner Brown & Howard's wharf.

Keys also in the hands of the firewards, city marshal and all the members of the police force. nov2

The Rates of Postage.

Postal cards, one cent each, go without further charge to all parts of the United States and Canada.

No fractions of cents to be introduced in an order. United States Treasury Notes or National Bank Notes only received or paid.

Fee for registering letters of any value 10 cents.

A WESTERN VENDETTA.—The execution last week in Marion, Ill., of Marshall Crain recalls one of the most remarkable vendettas of modern times. The feud originated between the Bullinor and Henderson families in Southern Illinois several years ago, and one by one the members of the opposing families were picked off by a bullet. As the two families took the lead in the neighborhood the smaller bullies ranged themselves under one or the other banner, and soon the entire neighborhood was in arms. After several murders had been committed the authorities were forced to take action, and a dozen or so of the murderers were arrested. Some of them were discharged for lack of evidence against them; two others were sent to prison for life; another for twenty-five years, and others were awarded a lesser punishment. Crain was the only one of the murderers who has thus far suffered the death penalty, though others are still awaiting trial. Crain, who was a pale, smooth-faced, slender young man, with light hair and light-blue eyes, confessed that he had killed two persons, being hired for that purpose by the Bullinors. When brought into court he pleaded guilty and refused to have a jury. The judge examined the witnesses and after some deliberation sentenced the prisoner to death. The jail doors, stairs and windows of the jail have for the past three months been barricaded, and for a week prior to the execution a company of militia kept on guard day and night. The sheriff did not wish to conduct the execution, as he was Crain's cousin, but Crain insisted that no one else should hang him. The execution took place on Friday, and on the gallows Crain addressed a crowd of 2500 people, confessing his guilt and acknowledging the justice of his sentence.

THE HIGHWAYMAN'S REWARD.—In 1760 a gentleman was passing over Point Neuf, Paris, one night, with a lantern. A man came up to him and said, "Read this paper." He held up his lantern and read as follows:

"Speak not a word when you've this read,
Or in an instant you'll be dead!
Give me your money, watch and rings,
With other valuable things—
Then quick, in silence, you depart,
Or I, with knife, will cleave your heart!"

Not being a man of much pluck, the affrighted gentleman gave up his watch and money, and ran off. He soon gave the alarm and the highwayman was arrested.

"What have you to say for yourself?" inquired the magistrate before whom the robber was ushered.

"That I am not guilty of robbery, though I took the watch and money."

"Why are you not guilty?" asked the magistrate.

"Simply because I can neither read nor write. I picked up the paper just at the moment I met this gentleman with a lantern. Thinking it might be of some value, I politely asked him to read it for me. He complied with my request, and promptly handed me his watch and purse, and then ran off. I supposed the paper to be of great value to him, and that he thus liberally rewarded me for finding it. He gave me no time to return thanks, which, out of politeness, I was ready to perform."

The gentleman accepted the plea and withdrew his complaint.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 78 State St., opp. Kilby St., Boston.
AFTER AN EXTENSIVE PRACTICE of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
